

WORLD

HE WORE A SHERIFF'S BADGE.

But Henry Maack Pleading Guilty of Shoplifting.

Mrs. Scott, His Companion, Looked Like a Sunday-School Teacher.

Henry Maack, thirty-five years old, who said he lived at 25 Varick street, New York, and Mrs. Mary Scott, fifty-three years of age, who said she lived "about a block," were sent to jail for fifty days by Justice Tigue, in the Butler Street Court, Brooklyn, this morning, for shoplifting.

The pair, who were brought in by a patrolman, were taken to the court by a patrolman. Mrs. Scott was a stout woman, with a disheveled hair, and a disheveled dress. She was over 6 feet tall and had a disheveled hair. She was taken to the court by a patrolman. Mrs. Scott was a stout woman, with a disheveled hair, and a disheveled dress. She was over 6 feet tall and had a disheveled hair. She was taken to the court by a patrolman.

When the pair were taken to the court, they were taken to the court by a patrolman. Mrs. Scott was a stout woman, with a disheveled hair, and a disheveled dress. She was over 6 feet tall and had a disheveled hair. She was taken to the court by a patrolman.

Police Inclined to Believe "Jack the Hair-Cutter" a Myth.

The police of the Clymer street station, Williamsburg, assert with more or less positiveness that "Gertie McBride" is not her own brand of hair.

One of the police, who has investigated the case, says that he is convinced from the state of the hair left on the child's head that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

Despite this, the little Gertie did not fall under the delusion of the hair-cutting. The police of the Clymer street station, Williamsburg, assert with more or less positiveness that "Gertie McBride" is not her own brand of hair.

Miss Black, who has charge of Gertie's education, says that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

She said that she has seen the child's hair cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors, and that the hair was cut by a pair of scissors.

ANOTHER WRECK VICTIM.

Andrew Bartholomew Died in the Hospital This Morning.

Austin Corbin May Be Indicted for the Parkville Horror.

Andrew J. Bartholomew, one of the victims injured in the Manhattan Beach Railway wreck at Parkville Tuesday evening, died this morning in the Norwegian Hospital, Brooklyn.

Bartholomew was one of the last of the injured to be removed from the scene of the accident. He lost considerable blood before he was found pinned down under one of the derailed cars.

His left leg was cut off just above the knee and his right foot was almost cut off at the ankle. He was badly cut about the face and head.

He was thirty years old and a farmer at Sisseton Creek, near Elmira, N. Y. At the other hospital in Brooklyn where a number of the injured were taken after the accident it was said that he was in a critical condition.

The only person who is not expected to live is Nicholas Foster, who is lying in the hospital at 15th and 5th streets, New York, suffering from internal injury.

The authorities have about come to the conclusion that Quimby, whose body was said to have been taken away in a wagon by two men, is a mythical person.

Quimby was said to have won $5,000 on the races, and the story went the men who took him away in a dying condition, abandoned him somewhere along the road and decamped with the money.

Lawyer Towne, of Brooklyn, was said to be a friend of Quimby. He was not, however, a friend of Quimby. He was not, however, a friend of Quimby. He was not, however, a friend of Quimby.

Corner Kane, of Brooklyn, is carrying on an investigation that may lead to the placing of the blame where it belongs. A jury has been impaneled, and the inquest will be held Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

The coroner does not believe the accident was caused by a broken axle, but that it was due to criminal negligence of some person to be determined by the jury.

In speaking of prosecuting the person or persons whose neglect caused the loss of life, District Attorney Ridgway, of Brooklyn, said:

"The story of anything in the matter until the coroner places the proper evidence in our hands. When that is done we will ask for the person or persons responsible for the accident."

There was a rumor this morning that Austin Corbin would be included in the indictments.

Coleman, of the Hotel America, Fifteenth street and Irving place, advertised this morning for a note-book, lost in the collision.

Switchman McGarry, who was arrested in connection with the terrible disaster, is still locked up at Gravesend. Judge Sutherland, by the request of Coroner Kane, has refused to admit him to bail. He is held on a charge of manslaughter, pending the result of the coroner's inquest.

QUIMBY NOT FROM UTICA.

UTICA, N. Y., June 22.—Every Utican who attended the Brooklyn race has been accounted for. The Utican race judge, Quimby, never lived here, and there is not the least shadow of a suspicion that he is a resident of this city.

Former resident of this city was killed in the accident at Parkville.

Two Brooklynites Missing.

The Police Asked to Look for Solomon and Campbell.

Detectives are looking for Sigmund Solomon, a cabinet-maker, employed in the Ansonia Clock Works, Brooklyn, who disappeared from his home, 400 Thirteenth street, Sunday, and has not been heard from since.

He told his wife that he intended to call on a friend living in New York. It was then learned that he did not go there, but visited Louis Pollock, of 547 East One Hundred and Thirty-fourth street, New York. The men separated at 10 o'clock in the evening.

Solomon, a man of thirty-three years, 5 feet 3 inches in height, dark complexion, hair and mustache and wore dark clothing.

A general alarm was also sent out by the Brooklyn police to-day for Donald Solomon, a man of thirty-three years, who disappeared from home last Saturday. He is described as forty-five years of age, with a dark complexion, with full brown beard. He wore dark clothing.

HARRISON—LONG.

One of Brooklyn's Belles Wedded to a Newspaper Man.

Mrs. Annie Long was married to Mr. Harrison S. Harrison, a newspaper man, at their future residence, 23 Thirteenth street, Brooklyn, last night. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert B. Hill, of the Greenwood Baptist Church.

The bridegroom was Miss Annie Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Long, of 111 West 11th street, Brooklyn. The bride was Miss Annie Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Long, of 111 West 11th street, Brooklyn.

Following the speeches will be a grand choral concert given by the Ansonia Clock Works, Brooklyn, which is to be held in the evening.

Dr. MacKay's Favorite Prescription. And every woman who is suffering from weakness, or overwork, or any other ailment, should take this medicine. It is a grand cure for all these ailments, and it is a grand cure for all these ailments.

MAYOR BOODY AS WITNESS.

Tells What He Knew About the Contract for the Grand Stand.

Bank Accounts Admitted at the Trial of Alderman McKee.

When the trial of Alderman William McKee was resumed this morning in the Court of Sessions, Brooklyn, Judge Moore announced his decision on the question of allowing the people to introduce testimony showing the condition of the bank accounts of James H. McKee and Patrick Ross.

The defense claimed that if Ross and McKee could not be used against McKee, they could not be used against McKee.

Judge Moore decided that the testimony should be allowed to go in. "In reference to the question argued here yesterday," said Judge Moore today, "I have to say this: I have decided with grave doubt as to the correctness of the opinion, to admit the testimony for a single purpose. It seems to me to have some bearing on the character of this bill, and to have a tendency to throw light upon it. I have to say at the same time that it is entirely immaterial, and of no consequence whatever what disposition Ross made of the money after he received it."

Assistant District Attorney Clarke read to the jury the account with the Kings County Bank from October, 1892, to May, 1893. It showed that Ross had deposited in the bank various small amounts of money. His account was closed on May 1, 1893, and the balance was $5,322.20.

William H. Hazard, President of the Fulton Bank, called. He was for thirty-seven years a contractor and builder.

Mr. Hazard said he could only estimate the cost of the grand stand after an inspection of the plans and specifications.

"Assuming that you know the cost of the materials and the cost of the labor, the witness said, 'I should put it at about 10 per cent.'"

The witness applied the cost of the materials and labor is said to be $5,322.20.

Witness examination of the witness said he had not been in the building business for ten years.

Mr. Hazard said he could only estimate the cost of the grand stand after an inspection of the plans and specifications.

Myron C. Rush, a builder, testified that in his opinion the stand at the plaza was worth $7.50 per foot. The stand was more than 1,300 feet long, and at $7.50 per foot it would cost nearly $10,000. On cross-examination, he testified that the stand was worth $7.50 per foot.

Assuming that the materials and labor cost $5,322.20, the witness said, 'I should put it at about 10 per cent.'"

About 30 per cent," said the witness. Mayor David A. Boody then took the stand. He testified that in March, 1892, the subject of the Columbian celebration was brought to his attention by a committee of the Board of Aldermen. He favored it if the citizens would furnish the money.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

COOLNESS BETWEEN MEN.

Preparing for a Bitter Fight Against the Trust.

"Deacon" Richardson May Take a Hand with the Machine.

The retail ice dealers in Brooklyn are preparing to organize a bitter fight against the Ice Trust, which has already increased the price from $2 to $2.50 a ton, wholesale.

The increase was made by Millionaire Morse, who recently purchased the Ridgewood Ice Company, of Brooklyn.

Mr. Morse further says that in July the price will be increased to $3 a ton, wholesale, and an advance thereafter of 50 cents a month.

This will bring the retail price up to about 50 cents a hundred within the next two months.

"Deacon" Richardson, who is watching the fight with a good deal of interest, as before long he expects to throw light upon it. I have to say at the same time that it is entirely immaterial, and of no consequence whatever what disposition Ross made of the money after he received it."

Assistant District Attorney Clarke read to the jury the account with the Kings County Bank from October, 1892, to May, 1893. It showed that Ross had deposited in the bank various small amounts of money. His account was closed on May 1, 1893, and the balance was $5,322.20.

William H. Hazard, President of the Fulton Bank, called. He was for thirty-seven years a contractor and builder.

Mr. Hazard said he could only estimate the cost of the grand stand after an inspection of the plans and specifications.

Myron C. Rush, a builder, testified that in his opinion the stand at the plaza was worth $7.50 per foot. The stand was more than 1,300 feet long, and at $7.50 per foot it would cost nearly $10,000. On cross-examination, he testified that the stand was worth $7.50 per foot.

Assuming that the materials and labor cost $5,322.20, the witness said, 'I should put it at about 10 per cent.'"

About 30 per cent," said the witness. Mayor David A. Boody then took the stand. He testified that in March, 1892, the subject of the Columbian celebration was brought to his attention by a committee of the Board of Aldermen. He favored it if the citizens would furnish the money.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

He testified that he had not been in the building business for ten years.

SHE IS AFTER DR. ZIMMERMAN.

He Is Charged with Abandonment and Refusal to Support.

His Pastor Accused of Being Instrumental in the Desertion.

The wife of Dr. Edwin Zimmerman, of 142 Fifth street, has secured a warrant from the Jefferson Market Court for the arrest of the doctor on a charge of abandonment.

She claims she was deserted last April, and that, although her husband had a practice worth $20 a day, and a fortune of over $50,000, he has since then contributed nothing to her support.

Mrs. Zimmerman claims that the trouble with her husband began last Summer while she was in the country with her daughter, a young lady of about twenty-one. The doctor grew lonely, she thought, while she was away, and to pass the time visited certain women.

So attached did he become to them, she says, that when she returned he called her madam and otherwise treated her as a stranger. She also alleges that Dr. Zimmerman is a member, and Dr. Shattuck, of West Fourth street, has been instrumental in leading her husband astray.

Dr. Shattuck told an "Evening World" reporter that Dr. Zimmerman had been driven from home by his wife's disagreeable and quarrelsome ways.

He did not believe the doctor had taken undue interest in other women. Dr. Shattuck intimated that Dr. Zimmerman had gone to Western State to get a divorce.

Mrs. Zimmerman claims, however, that her husband is in the city and that she saw him on a street car yesterday.

Other Victims of the Naphtha Explosion Are Rapidly Recovering.

John J. Kane, driver of Truck 21, one of the eight persons who were injured by the explosion of naphtha during a fire in the cellar of Doelner's dyeing and scouring establishment, 37 Ninth avenue Tuesday afternoon, is in a very critical condition and will probably die.

Foreman George F. Farrell, of Truck 21; Richard Gorman, engineer of Engine 28; Henry E. Hanley, of Truck 21; William M. Muller, of Truck 21, and Oscar Doelner, son of the proprietor of the establishment, were all injured.

Three men stated that they had joined the Garment Workers' Union.

Three men stated that they had joined the Garment Workers' Union.

Three men stated that they had joined the Garment Workers' Union.

Three men stated that they had joined the Garment Workers' Union.

Three men stated that they had joined the Garment Workers' Union.

Three men stated that they had joined the Garment Workers' Union.

Three men stated that they had joined the Garment Workers' Union.

Three men stated that they had joined the Garment Workers' Union.

Three men stated that they had joined the Garment Workers' Union.

Three men stated that they had joined the Garment Workers' Union.

Three men stated that they had joined the Garment Workers' Union.

Three men stated that they had joined the Garment Workers' Union.

Three men stated that they had joined the Garment Workers' Union.

Three men stated that they had joined the Garment Workers' Union.

Three men stated that they had joined the Garment Workers' Union.

Three men stated that they had joined the Garment Workers' Union.

Three men stated that they had joined the Garment Workers' Union.

Three men stated that they had joined the Garment Workers' Union.

Three men stated that they had joined the Garment Workers' Union.

Three men stated that they had joined the Garment Workers' Union.

BARGAINS THIS WEEK.

IN EXTENSION TABLES.

Don't Delay Calling at Once. A CHANCE SEIZING OFFER.

Jordan, Morley & Co.

155, 157 and 159 East 230 St.,

WEST OF 30th AVE.

FURNITURE, CARPETS, &c.

ONLY $4.28.

COOLER WEATHER PROMISED.